Dear Hiring Managers,

I am writing to express my interest in a position with your company. With a proven record of professionalism, adaptability, and leadership, I'm eager to apply both my practical experience and academic foundation to contribute meaningfully to your team.

I hold a Bachelor of Science in Cybersecurity – earned with honors, following an Associate of Arts degree – also with honors. These academic achievements reflect my commitment to growth, discipline, and a strong work ethic – traits that continue to shape how I approach challenges and pursue opportunities.

In addition to my education, I bring over 17 years of combined experience in corrections, retail loss prevention, and team management. But what sets me apart isn't just my experience – it's my adaptability, values, and belief in teamwork and purpose-driven work. My background has uniquely prepared me to thrive under pressure, stay composed in high-stakes situations, and quickly adapt to shifting priorities. I don't just show up to do the job – I show up to contribute, protect, and elevate those around me.

Throughout my career, I've mentored new staff and provided guidance to leadership to improve training and operational efficiency. While working at the Benton County Jail, I created and implemented a streamlined court docket process that significantly enhanced daily coordination and efficiency – demonstrating my ability to analyze operational challenges and develop practical, scalable solutions.

In loss prevention, I leveraged data to identify risk and implemented effective shrink mitigation strategies, including installing door sensors, optimizing camera placement, and other proactive solutions. As a result, I was recognized as the top-performing associate in the region for shrink reduction at Walmart and served as the area trainer for new Loss Prevention associates. I was promoted into management shortly after.

I'm confident my experience will directly support your mission. After more than a decade in corrections, I am ready to transition into a new chapter – one where I can leverage my skills to make a broader, positive impact on the community in a different capacity. I'm excited about the opportunity to bring my background, values, and commitment to a role that aligns with that vision.

Thank you for your time and consideration. I'd welcome the opportunity to discuss how I can support your goals and contribute to your team. I can be reached at: 1 (509) 438-8030 or joraelrj13@gmail.com

Sincerely,

Objective & Qualification

From overseeing high-risk correctional environments to leading loss prevention across multiple retail locations, I've built a career on consistency, integrity, and performance under pressure. Known for dependability, mentoring new staff, streamlining operations, and exceeding shrink-reduction goals, I bring practical experience combined with specialized training in law enforcement. I'm driven to support safety-focused missions with accountability, leadership, and purpose.

- Over 12 years of experience as a Correctional Officer, managing adult incarcerated individuals in high-security environments. Trained extensively in defensive and control tactics, tactical communication, weapons qualifications, and safety and security protocols.
- Six years of retail loss prevention experience, including three years as the sole Loss Prevention representative across multiple stores and 1.5 years in a management role.
- Completed comprehensive training at the Washington Basic Law Enforcement Academy, covering criminal law, traffic enforcement, report writing, firearms qualification, defensive tactics, de-escalation and emergency response procedures.
- Proficient with computers and technology through formal training in a Cybersecurity degree program, supplemented by self-directed learning.
- Highly professional with a strong sense of integrity and commitment to excellence.
- Trained in combat and basic first aid, as well as OSHA and HAMAT safety and health standards, including the ability to maintain respirator mask fit as required.
